FDR's Talk Tonight to Answer 'All Questions'

CONFERS WITH G. O. P. AND DEM PARTY LEADERS

Secretary Early Says Address Will Be In 'Plain English' Needing No Translation.

SOCIET ENVOY CALLED

Axis War at Sea and Effects on American Shipping Due For Full Discussion.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's radio address on foreign policy tonight was described at the White House today as one which will be "all covering, and will leave no unanswered questions."

Stephen Early, the press secretary who said this, also declared that the president would devote part of today to the Russian aid question, receiving Constantine Oumansky, the Soviet ambassador, and Secretary of State Hull, and would cancel tomorrow morning's press conference to hold his first meeting with the American mission to Russia headed by W. Averell Harriman.

As the chief executive went over a completed draft of his address with senate and house Democratic and Republican leaders, Early told reporters that the speech "will mean what it says and will be written in English—English that will not need translation. Foreign languages need translation; English does not."

With reports and speculation flying as to the contents of the address, the president talked to Democratic and Republican congressional leaders at the White House this morning and it was generally taken for granted that the speech figured in the discussion.

The fact that Republicans as well as Democrats were asked to the meeting was universally interpreted as another sign that Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncements tonight would deal with momentous matters of national policy.

The conference with legislative chiefs was the second the president called after returning to the capital last night from his month.

Giant U. S. Bomber, Largest In World, Nears Completion

BALTIMORE — (NS) — The world's largest flying boat, capable of crossing the Atlantic and returning without a stop, is in the last stages of completion and will undergo a test flight within six weeks, the navy revealed today.

Details of the giant flying craft were made known at the Glenn L. Martin bomber plant where the ship is under construction. Information given by the navy and the Martin company revealed that the airplane measures 200 feet from wing tip to wing tip and that its two deck hull is 170 feet long. It has a gross weight of 140,000 pounds and can carry "many tons" of bombs, the announcement said.

'It'll Be Wood Bridge,' Commissioners Assert

They'll Spend Own $6,000 for Main Street Span; Reveal Deal With Columbus Firm for Material.

Ignoring the state highway department's plans calling for a $40,000 cement bridge over Touby's run on North Main street, Richland county commissioners said today they will build a $6,000 wooden bridge over the stream at their own cost as the result of a tentative deal with a Columbus bridge firm.

C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the commissioners, said the county "definitely will not pay half the cost of a $20,000 bridge when we can build one without state help for less than one-third of that amount."

Mitchell said the commissioners decided on the wooden bridge after a consulting engineer for the Columbus Bridge company came here early this week and estimated the cost of materials at $4,500. Labor is expected to add $1,500 to the cost.

While the commissioners said they had made no definite agreement with the Columbus firm for the purchase of materials, they considered it likely they would buy the material from the company. The consulting engineer, L. J. Yucher, made the survey without cost with the expectation of getting the order, they said.

The wooden bridge will replace a similar but lighter structure which has been in use on the busy thoroughfare since an old stone bridge collapsed more than two years ago.

The commissioners' decision apparently terminates a two-year dispute between the county and state highway department over the cost of a new bridge on North Main street which also carries route 13 traffic north out of the city.

City Dresses Up For Ohio Moose Conclave, Sept. 18

Flags and bunting waved from the fronts of Mansfield stores and business places today as an invitation to more than 4,000 Moose lodge members from throughout the state who will be here for their annual state convention Sept. 18 to 21.

Although the opening of the convention is still a week away, elaborate preparations were under way today to entertain the visiting lodgemen and their wives.

Convention headquarters will be set up at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, but some of the convention

PROBES DISPUTE

Dean of Oregon Law School Heads Rail Investigation.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Wayne Lyman Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school, will head the five man board named by President Roosevelt to investigate facts involved in the dispute between the railroads and their employees.

The national mediation board announced the personnel of the board last night after the president had announced its formation yesterday morning in Hyde Park. The mediation board meets in Chicago Monday to determine where the fact finding board will meet.

Other members of the railroad board are Thomas Reed Powell, Harvard law professor; Joseph Henry Willis, director of social sciences for the Rockefeller foundation; James Cummings Bonbright, finance professor at Columbia university; and Huston Thompson, Washington attorney.

Mansfielder Donates 22-Acre Wooded Site as Public Park

Mansfield today has a new public park—22 acres of wooded land, located east of the Richland County Children's Home, donated by John H. Todd, 186 Vennum avenue, to the John Todd park association. The gift outgrowth of an offer to buy the land for a public park made some months ago by officers of Hedges Parent-Teachers' association, was announced last night at a meeting of the Hedges group by Paul M. Stahl, vice president. After considering the offer Todd told the P. T. A. that he would donate the land and an organization known as the John Todd Park association, was formed to accept the gift.

FIRE MENACES WAR SUPPLIES

Foreign-Bound Defense Goods Threatened as Blaze Hits New York Pier.

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK—In the third largest pier fire in recent months, flames early today spread with lightning speed through the New York Central railroad's 600-foot pier D in the Hudson river at 62nd street.

Huge piles of defense materials ready for shipment to the war zones was menaced by the fire, which was brought under control at 7:25 a. m. EST.

FBI and police sabotage squads rushed to the scene to determine the origin of the fire.

A large quantity of defense supplies on the pier were saved by longshoremen who ran donkey engines at the risk of their lives, out on the flaming pier to haul 15 freight cars through the flames. Materials in the freight cars were marked "foreign bound" and presumably were headed for Great Britain.

The blaze, which spread a great pall of smoke over the midtown area, was discovered by a watchman, Brugio Malsue, at 6:17 a. m., under the piling of the pier.

Within a half an hour, four alarms had been sounded and 25 pieces of apparatus as well as several hundred firemen and fireboat fire-fighters were battling the blaze.

The steel construction of the upper part of the pier prevented the blaze from spreading out of hand.

SEEKS SETTLEMENT

CANTON—(AP)—Daniel Hurley of Cleveland, a labor department conciliator, today sought settlement of a strike of 85 men in the forging division of the Timken Roller Bearing company.

F. B. Boling, president, and Stahl, vice president, of the Parent-Teachers' association were elected to fill the same offices in the John Todd park association. The John Todd park association was elected secretary-treasurer. These three officers serve as trustees along with Prosecutor Harold Lutz and John Lorentz.

The only restrictions placed on the gift by Todd was that the park not be commercialized and that its natural state be preserved as nearly as possible. Entrances will be installed on Lincoln road and on Bowers avenue, Robinson said.

SEEK DEFENSE CONTRACTS IN CITY TUESDAY

Industrialists From Nearby Area Will Confer With Top Manufacturers.

STUDY SUB-LETTING

Army, Navy Advisors To Aid as Caravan Brings Blueprints, Samples To Mansfield.

Approximately 150 industrial heads from six northcentral Ohio counties are expected to be in Mansfield Tuesday shopping for defense contracts.

Meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel in the afternoon and evening, the industrialists will confer with officials of 28 of the nation's leading industrial firms which hold major government orders and are ready to sub-let smaller orders to manufacturers in this section.

Representatives of firms in Mansfield and neighboring cities will have an opportunity to meet officials of the 28 firms holding the contracts and make their bid for some of the defense business.

The prominent industrialists will come here from Columbus in a defense production caravan. Mansfield is second on the list of eight Ohio and Pennsylvania cities which the caravan will visit. Others are Columbus, Toledo, Zanesville, Canton, Erie, Youngstown and Cleveland.

Invitations to the defense "round-up" here had been mailed today by the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce to heads of firms in Richland, Huron, Ashland, Knox, Morrow and the eastern half of Crawford counties.

There will be no speech making at the session. Samples, drawings and blueprints will be available for inspection by the visiting industrialists and their questions will be answered.

Army and navy representatives will outline the methods used by the government in letting contracts and the requirements for handling defense orders. It is probable that motion pictures will be shown.

LOCATE PLANE

Wreckage of Missing U. S. Army Bomber Sighted.

TACOMA, Wash. — (AP) — Aerial searches reported today they had discovered the wreck of a missing twin-engine army bomber about 18 miles northeast of Enumclaw, Wash., in the foothills of the Cascade mountains.

From the air, there was no sign of the six men who were aboard the craft when it disappeared two days ago while on a routine training flight.

First word of the discovery was brought to the McChord base by a farmer. A search party of 20 soldiers set out for the scene.

Nazis Warn Americans They Face Torpedoes

Say United States Citizens Returning Home Aboard British Vessels Do So at Their Own Risk.

(By International News Service)
BERLIN—Germany today warned that American citizens returning home from England aboard British ships will face the risk of Nazi torpedoes.

At the same time, the Berlin press and the Wilhelmstrasse openly accused President Roosevelt of jeopardizing the lives of American nationals aboard belligerent ships as part of a determined campaign to plunge the United States into war.

"Roosevelt," the newspaper Lokalanzeiger said, "is sending Americans to their death."

Announcement in Washington and London that Americans remaining in the British Isles would be permitted to return home aboard vessels of British registry—legitimate targets for Nazi torpedoes—created a sensation in Berlin.

All Berlin newspapers accorded the story far more prominence than news from the Russian front, and an official spokesman for the Wilhelmstrasse branded the new Washington move as "a new pretext to precipitate incidents on the Atlantic."

The afternoon newspaper Nachrichten used almost all of its front-page to discuss the matter under the headline:

The ruling is in line with experience under the selective service training which showed men under 28 to be best suited to modern army training.

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Red army declared today its counterattacks had pushed as deep as 12 miles into German lines on the central front and repulsed a German-Finnish attempt to cut the Leningrad - Murmansk railroad on the north.

(By United Press)

BERLIN—The high command, in leaflets dropped by German planes, has called on Leningrad's 3,000,000 people to surrender or suffer the same fate as Warsaw, competent Nazi quarters said today.

The leaflets were reported to have warned that, if the civilian population continued to participate in defense of the Soviet second city, the Luftwaffe would open all-out day and night attacks and subject Leningrad to ruthless bombardment regardless of the fate of residential areas.

Air and infantry attacks on Leningrad thus far, Nazi informants said, have been directed only against old czarist period forts, water and gas works, power stations, arms factories, and warehouses on the outskirts of the city.

Big blazes in large factories, food and supply warehouses in Leningrad's outlying districts were said by usually well-informed Nazi quarters to have covered the city with a black pall of smoke as the Germans continued incessant shelling and air bombing of military objectives.

On the central and southern front, German military dispatches reported increasingly strong Russian counter-attacks, but asserted that they were beaten off. In the north, dive-bombers were said to be raking Russian defensive positions relentlessly.

A frontier dispatch claimed that communications with Leningrad by way of the Neva river had been cut and that the last remaining single-track railway line along the shores of Lake Ladoga now was in German hands.

EXPELS NAZIS

Iran Complies With Recent Anglo-Soviet Ultimatum.

LONDON — (AP) — Iran, complying with a British-Russian ultimatum delivered Tuesday, has begun to hand over German nationals to British and Russian authorities, it was announced today.

About 700 Germans had been reported "entrenched" with arms on the German legation grounds at Iran, threatening to resist any effort to turn them over to the British or Russians.

The British-Russian occupation, technically, was due chiefly to refusal of Iran to expel several thousand German fifth columnists who were believed plotting to strike at the Russian oil fields.

CHICAGO — (NS) — There were six little pigs in Chicago today which did not go to market—but it was a question whether they had retained their liberty.

The six were among 70 little pigs which escaped from a truck yesterday en route to the stock yards. The other 64 eventually were rounded up, apparently leaving the six little escapees to the mercy of the big city—and pork-lovers.

SKEPTICS START CARNIVAL FIGHT

Norwalk Men Beaten When Familiar 'Hey, Rube' Alarm Sounded

NORWALK — (KNS) — Two Norwalk men were still skeptical today about a carnival performance in which a "cannibal" stuck a knife through his arm, but they decided to keep their theories to themselves after this.

The men were "doing" the Huron county fair and stopped to watch the knife performance. They expressed their doubts about the authenticity of the exhibition until someone yelled, "Hey, Rube."

The inevitable fight started and one of the men was hit on the head with a club. His companion was severely beaten.

TEST AIRSHIP

New Naval Blimp Gets Flight Tests at Akron Today.

AKRON — (UP) — Test flights of the K-3, one of the largest non-rigid airships in the world, continued today preparatory to turning the K-3 over to the navy.

First flight of the K-3 was made yesterday with four men including Commander C. V. S. Knox of the navy and J. A. Boettner, chief pilot for Goodyear Aircraft Corp., constituting the crew.

The ship circled the Wingfoot lake air dock several times to test its Wright Whirlwind engines.

The K-3 is 246 feet long, has a helium capacity of 416,000 cubic feet and costs $325,000. It will be fitted with machine guns and depth bombs and placed in service on the eastern coast. Its cruising range is 2,000 miles and its speed 65 miles an hour.

COURT STUDIES NEW EVIDENCE

Weights Admissibility of a 'Third Confession' In Lukens Trial.

(By Associated Press)

AKRON — Judge Walter B. Wanamaker studied today the admissibility of a purported "third confession" by Albert B. Lukens, 38-year-old church janitor charged with slaying Miss Ruth Zwicker, 24, a music teacher.

State testimony presented to the court yesterday in the absence of the jury was designed to show that Lukens freely admitted "choked the pretty young pianist when she resisted his advances, and then stuffed her body in a furnace."

Lukens testified that in his first confession he said the girl fell, and that in the second he admitted pushing her, but maintained the third statement was uttered after he had been hit and kicked by Detectives Gilbert Mosley and Robert Prease. Both officers denied Lukens' claims.

Judge Wanamaker questioned the defendant about what the court termed "discrepancies" in Lukens' story of being abused by police. Yesterday's testimony concerned the admissibility of the third statement, and was not heard by the jury.

FDR'S ADDRESS DUE TO COVER 'ALL QUESTIONS'

President Sees GOP and Dem Leaders of Congress on Topics He'll Discuss.

(Continued From Page 1) er's funeral in Hyde Park, N. Y. Immediately after his arrival at the White House, he was closeted for an hour and 23 minutes with Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox and Harry L. Hopkins, lease-lend supervisor, but the conferees were pledged to strict secrecy.

As far as the White House was concerned, apparently, the exact contents of the speech would remain confidential until Mr. Roosevelt starts speaking at 9 p. m. (EST).

For today's White House meeting the foremost topic, in the opinion of congressional informants, was the question that is expected to occupy a major portion of the president's radio address—the war waged by Axis forces at sea and its effect on American shipping.

It was pointed out, in this connection, that the speech was not announced until after the running fight between the U. S. destroyer Greer in the North Atlantic, and that Mr. Roosevelt had revised his plans for a 15-minute talk for a 25-minute broadcast when the Greer incident was quickly followed by the sinking of two American-owned freighters.

Before the legislative chiefs met with the president, there were reports on Capitol Hill that Mr. Roosevelt might transmit to congress some time during the day his second report on the operations of the lease-lend program, and also that his conference might discuss an additional appropriation of $1,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 for lease-lend operations.

Appropos of the Greer-U-boat clash, Senator Nye (R., N. D.) disclosed today that he had drafted a resolution calling for a secret inquiry by the senate naval affairs committee into the incident.

Nye said he had framed his resolution to call for testimony from officers and men aboard the Greer, as well as high navy officials in Washington. It might be possible, he added, for the committee to make an informal investigation without waiting for senate approval of the proposal, if it chose to do so.

"Congress ought to be informed," he told reporters, "about the circumstances of this encounter. It ought to know from an official source, also, the nature of the orders under which American vessels are proceeding in the Atlantic patrol."

After the Greer episode, President Roosevelt ordered the navy to "eliminate" the attacking submarine if it could be located again. He also has said that the sea lanes to Iceland, as well as to other bases, must be kept open, and he was expected to tell congressional leaders today how he intended to accomplish that.

GERMANS WARN U. S. CITIZENS

This paper said: "Neutrality laws expressly prohibit travel aboard belligerent ships."

"As a result of this measure, a great number of American citizens will be required to board British ships and thus will risk the danger of being torpedoed by German submarines or bombed by German planes."

"In effect, Roosevelt is subjecting United States citizens to war zone dangers with the obvious object of whipping up anti-Nazi agitation and instigating American entry into the war by any single individual incident."

"Thus American citizens are being abused for agitatory purposes by New York Jews."

"Such methods fit in perfectly with the policies of lies and agitation pursued by Roosevelt, who is reported planning to revoke the neutrality act or take other similar measures."

"He is sending many ships into the possible dangers of war zones simply to increase his provocations."

Reveals Sinking Of Icelandic Ship

WASHINGTON—(AP)—V. Thor, chairman of the Icelandic government trade commission, said today the 1,215-ton Icelandic vessel Tjella was sunk in late June by a submarine while en route from Iceland to Canada.

Thor said the vessel was torpedoed and that 14 members of the crew were lost and six survivors were picked up by a British warship.

He thought the sinking took place June 29. United States armed forces did not occupy Iceland until July 7.

Thor said the Berlin radio announcement picked up by NBC's listening post in New York was the first positive information that the vessel was sunk by a German submarine.

The vessel was Icelandic-owned and flying the Icelandic flag, Thor said. No Americans were in the crew.

FORMER EXAMINER DIES

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Charles R. Dodge, former chief banking examiner of Ohio, is dead at 75. Dodge, who was president of the State Banking and Trust company until it merged with the Union Trust company in 1926, also was connected with banks in Warren, Courtland and Oberlin.

5 Generations 20 Years Apart

William A. Mercer, retired Pennsylvania railroad conductor residing at 208 Edgewood road, had no trouble in computing the ages of five generations in his family today, his 82nd birthday. The five generations are just 20 years apart and the youngest member of the family is a great-great-grandson, Gerry Mercer, 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mercer of Detroit. The great-great-grandfather is shown here at the extreme right of picture with the five generations. Shown from left to right are the other members of the Mercer family, all of Detroit. Philip Mercer, 62, son of William; Earl Mercer, 22, son of John Mercer; and John Mercer, 42, Little Gerry Mercer, 19-months, stands before the group. William Mercer is the father of nine children, only one of whom, Harry A. Mercer, 408 Edgewood road, lives in Mansfield.

ELECTION BOARD DISQUALIFIES 8 THEY'LL BUILD WOODEN BRIDGE

Rules Out School Petitions Commissioners Ignore State Plans For Main Street Concrete Span.

(Continued From Page 1) out that only three candidates were suggested for the board which must have five members, three elected for long terms and two for short terms.

Four of the seven Lexington candidates were ruled out because they were listed on the same petition. The election board explained that only three board members will be elected and not more than three candidates can file together. Ruled ineligible were Ralph DeWitt, Harry Clever, Mrs. Vera Lawrence, and Earl W. Wentz. Three candidates are still in the field.

Omer Durbin, candidate for Jefferson township trustee, was declared ineligible because of lack of a sufficient number of signatures on his petitions. The board approved the withdrawal of Clifford Blust as a candidate for justice of peace in Monroe township.

The election board approved the candidacies of 248 office-seekers whose names will go on the November ballot unless they withdraw before the ballots are ordered.

GERMANS CALL FOR SURRENDER OF LENINGRAD

Planes Drop Pamphlets, Warn Citizens of Fate That Befell Polish Warsaw.

(Continued From Page 1) Russian troops were reported to be intensifying their counter-attacks and it was said that the Germans had repulsed a big counter-attack, led by tanks, after a two-day battle 37 1/2 miles north-east of Smolensk.

Military quarters asserted that Russian losses along the entire front were extremely high and that the 300th Russian division had been "almost annihilated."

Russian Army Claims New Advances

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russian army advances as deep as 12 miles were reported in military dispatches today from the central front, where three Soviet wedges have been thrust into the German lines to relieve Nazi pressure on the flanks.

By last night, one report said, Russian forces under Commander Ermenko had regained 10 villages and had driven forward roughly 10 to 12 miles, overcoming stubborn German resistance with the help of the Russian air force.

Soviet bombers, the army newspaper, Red Star, said, "do not allow Fascist troops a moment's respite, dropping tons of metal on their heads continuously, destroying tank columns and exterminating the enemy's manpower."

Nazis Extend Norwegian 'Siege'

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—(AP)—With all of the Oslo area encircled by German troops and two Norwegian labor leaders already dead by firing squad, Vidkun Quisling's Nazi-sponsored regime today took over complete control of both workers and employers' organizations in German-occupied Norway.

The status of a general strike called for today was uncertain.

The head of the Norwegian Federation of Labor was ousted and arrested and replaced by Odd Fossum, leader of Quisling's labor organization. This put the nation's Federation of Labor into Quisling's so-called corporative state structure.

The entire board of the employers' organizations then was removed and placed under police surveillance.

The German forces were prepared to meet all strike eventualities under a state of civil siege, proclaimed for the capital and its environs yesterday. Quisling spies betrayed the plan to authorities, bringing on the state of siege.

RAF Bombers Raid Northern Italy

BULLETIN
MILAN, Unoccupied France—(AP)—French anti-aircraft guns opened fire today on a British plane which flew over Milan during the early hours this morning.

LONDON—(AP)—Royal Air Force bombers raided Turin last night in the heaviest attack yet made on northern Italy, authoritative British sources said today.

Two civilians were killed and several others injured when British planes dropped bombs around Genoa and Turin last night in the first raid on northern Italian cities since last winter the Italian high command reported.

The main objective of the many heavy bombers taking part in the assault was given as the Royal arsenal. British officials said large fires were left burning.

The attackers were led by Britain's new Stirling and Halifax four-motored bombers. It was the first time they had crossed the Alps, although some of the crews which bombed Turin were over Berlin Sunday night.

They described the trip to Italy as "like an air-liner trip in peacetime."

TOLL RISES 81
CINCINNATI—(AP)—Hamilton county's 1941 traffic toll rose to 84 with the deaths of Jacob Rosenthal 69 who was struck by a hit-skip driver, and Irlwin Mann, 39-year-old Negro, who was run over by an auto.

CARRIGAN WILL AID JOB SEARCH

Other Recommendations Made By Draft Boards To Help Released Service Men.

Richland county board clerks said today that only 19 of the 36 registrants who were examined yesterday at the Mansfield Armory qualified for induction. Five others may pass the physical examination after further tests are completed, the clerks said.

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beighler, commander of the 37th Ohio division at Camp Shelby, today asked for the names of men affected by a new war department order fixing age limits for officers.

His request was believed to indicate that some of the men who left Mansfield and other Ohio cities with the Ohio National Guard last fall may be relieved of duty and returned to their homes in October upon completion of their first year in service.

Maximum ages for officers under the new regulations are 62 for major generals in command of divisions; 50 for brigadier generals; 35 for colonels; 32 for lieutenant colonels; 27 for majors; 22 for captains; 35 for first lieutenants, and 30 for second lieutenants.

SIX CASES TO BE HEARD BY DISTRICT COURT

Automobile Damage Action Heads Assignments For Appeals Judges.

Six cases are scheduled for consideration by the Fifth district appeals court when it convenes next Wednesday morning at the Richland county courthouse.

Heading the docket will be a case involving liability for damages as the result of a fatal traffic accident on Lexington avenue in June, 1938. Plaintiff in the suit is the Shelby Mutual Plate Glass and Casualty company which seeks to be relieved of liability for payment of any damages that might be found due in cases pending in Cuyahoga county common pleas court as a result of the accident.

Acting as referee, Arty. William F. Black heard evidence in the case several weeks ago and submitted his findings to the appeals court. The court is expected to hand down its decision Wednesday.

The court also will decide whether William Lindsay, a defendant in the Belville morals case in county probate court several weeks ago, must serve a 120-day workhouse sentence imposed by the lower court.

Found guilty on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Lindsay was sentenced by Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer. He appealed the decision. He is represented by Atty. A. S. Beach, Mansfield, and Carl Swadener, Bellville.

Other cases which the court will hear include:

Hilda A. Coleman vs. the New York Central Railroad company; R. B. Kerton vs. John Kabak and L. Gruin as Miller's Pure Test Milk company; Vera Grinnell vs. Carl Earhart, and State of Ohio vs. Clyde Estes. Most of them are damage actions.

300 From County Expected to Be At F-B Field Day

More than 300 from Richland county are expected to attend the third annual Farm Bureau field day in Columbus next Tuesday, W. B. Davis, manager of the Richland county Farm Bureau Cooperative, announced today.

Most prominent Mansfield area personage at the field day exhibits will be Louis E. Pete, director of music at Ashland college and conductor of the Ashland symphony orchestra and the Ashland high school band, Davis believes.

Pete will direct musical numbers by more than 1,500 musicians from more than 50 Ohio bands, including the Bellville high school band and the Grifer band from Mansfield.

Beside the hand concert and a speech by Murray D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau, a barbecue is to be held at the field day.

PICKET?

MINEOLA, Tex.—(UP)—Shop-pers were steering clear of a store near here. The storekeeper couldn't figure out what it was all about—until he saw a big rattlesnake lying in the doorway. But before anything could be done, the navy arrived and took the situation well in hand. Jadie Wagoner, navy man for 31 years, happened to be visiting at home and he hoisted anchor and went into action. A pair of well-aimed blows with a hammer killed the reptile.

TOTAL SURPRISING
ROCKFORD, Ill.—(UP)—From 1,000 to 2,000 arrests for speeding would be made daily in this town of 85,000 if every traffic offender were caught, Traffic Sergt. "Jim" Pelgen reports. After checking driving speeds in various sections of the city, Pelgen found that 15 out of every 100 drivers were exceeding the speed limit.

Want EXTRA good SHOESTRING POTATOES?

Shoestring Potatoes
6 large potatoes (about 2 pounds) Wash and pare potatoes. Cut lengthwise in strips, 2 1/2 x 1/4 inches. Dry thoroughly between towels. Fry in deep hot spray (325°-350° F.) about 4 minutes, or until crisp and golden brown. Test the fat (if you have no thermometer) with a 1-inch square of sliced bread and if it turns light brown in 1 minute, the temperature is right for frying. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with salt. Serves 6.

—fry'em this Spry FULL FLAVOR way

See how different—how delicate-tasting. Purer Spry doesn't "smother" natural food flavors as ordinary shortening may. Foods are so crispy and digestible, too. And no unpleasant smell or smoke when frying. Always fry with purer Spry. Use it for all your baking, too.

REMEMBER: Spry is pure—does not smoke at proper frying temperatures. So don't wait for Spry to smoke before you start to fry.

'42 Cars Will Have Many New Plastic Parts

WILMINGTON, Del.—(AP)—More than 120 parts of your 1942 automobile will be made of plastics, according to the DuPont company.

Eventually, the percentage may go even higher than that, because there are more than 225 possible applications of these parts. There are 110 plastic parts in the composite 1941 car, ranging from upholstery buttons to steering wheel, pedals to glass interlayers.

Why the trend to plastics? Well, explains DuPont, certain metals are being requisitioned for national defense needs. But then again, plastics have, in addition to durability, new color, beauty, lighter weight and economy.

Engineers are most enthusiastic about acrylic resins, newest of the synthetics. Derived basically from coal, air and water, the acrylic resins have high resistance to outdoor exposure, crystal clarity and virtual indestructibility.

These resins, first transparent plastics to stand up satisfactorily outdoors, are useful for radiator ornaments; signal light lenses; instruments; speedometer and clock panels; trunk light lenses and lamp lenses.

New plastics have been developed at a one-a-year rate since 1931.

KNOTTY WORK

AKRON, O.—(UP)—Two former members of the British and American navies, now beyond the age limits for active service, are using their special skills for national defense.

Henry Longacre, an American, and Tom Harvey, an Englishman, are busy fashioning intricate knots for lines of barrage balloons now under construction here at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company. Both men are veteran employees of the company, Longacre having 23 years of service and Harvey 18 years.

SOUND TRUCKS LICENSED
KINGSTON, N. Y.—(UP)—The Kingston common council had its own way of "celebrating" noise abatement week. The council approved an ordinance regulating sound trucks and other vehicles equipped with loud speakers. Annual licenses will cost $50.

FISHING TOO GOOD
TEMPE, Ariz.—(UP)—"They're sure biting today," Ogle Pepper told a stranger as he pulled another fat bass out of the water. "Yep," Caretaker Willard Taylor assented, as he arrested Pepper, who was fined $50 for angling in the state fish hatchery.

PACT SIGNED

Signing of a contract between the Cement Products company and the Truckers' Union, local No. 40, was announced today by Russell Kemp, union business agent.

Terms of the contract, Kemp said, call for the seven affected truck drivers to receive 65 cents an hour for their work and to work 10 hours a day.

This is the first contract the local has signed with the company which manufactures cement building blocks, Kemp asserted.

The contract will run until May.

British Women Replace Salesmen Called To Colors

LONDON — (AP) — Latest work to be taken over by women is that of traveling salesmen. One of Britain's biggest rayon and cotton goods manufacturers has replaced with young women, 25 men of their staff called up for war service.

Some women are wives of men in the forces who have taken over their husband's jobs. Others have previously worked in banks or as secretaries but find traveling more interesting.

"I could not be more satisfied with results these girls have brought back after a month on tour," said a director of one big firm.

"When we decided to try the experiment we were apprehensive. Some of the shopkeepers had for years done all their business with men."

"As more of our men travelers

News Story Of 1852 Reveals Relic Prized By Henry Clay

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — One of Henry Clay's most prized possessions was a wooden ring that held a piece of George Washington's coffin.

This fact is disclosed in an Alabama newspaper of 1852 that reposes in the collection of the State Department of Archives and History.

How Clay got the chip from the Washington coffin was not revealed in the story, which was printed in the Jacksonville, Ala., Republican on Tuesday, Aug. 3, 1852.

The story quoted a Louisville newspaper's account of Henry Clay's will filed for probate and are called up their order books and cars will be taken over by women. In all we have a traveling staff of about 50 women covering the whole country."

gave details of the disposition of the Clay estate.

One of the most interesting details of the will is the codicil relating to Clay's Negro slaves. The opposition to slavery of the man who made four unsuccessful bids for the Presidency is amply recorded by historians. It was during his unsuccessful fight to keep Texas out of the Union, to curtail slavery, that Clay said, "I'd rather be right than be President."

The codicil orders the executors of the Clay will to free his slaves, as follows: "... that all the children of his slaves born after the first of January, 1850 (Clay died in 1852) be liberated and sent to Liberia—the males at the age of 28 and the females at the age of 25."

The will set aside three years of the earnings of the slaves to outfit them for the trip to the African republic. Clay also requested they

Prefers America After Living 40 Years In Africa

AUDUBON, Ia. — (AP) — After 40 years in Africa, 71-year-old Arthur Brown has had enough.

He is back in the United States with the avowed intention of "staying here the rest of my days."

Brown visited with his sister, Mrs. J. M. Graham, in Audubon, Ia., but plans to make his home in California. The war caused him to dispose of his African holdings and return to America.

The American first went to Africa in 1889 with a government astronomical expedition, and after returning to receive degrees in civil and electrical engineering at Princeton university, went back in 1899.

At various times he worked as a

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

GUARD YOUR HONOR

"GUARD YOUR HONOR" does not apply only to qualities of the inner being. It also bears on the protection of honor cards in your hand when playing against an opponent's contract. All players know the risk of leading away from a guarded king in an unbid suit, but many are neglectful of the same factor when applied to a lower card. Many a time the lead from a queen can cost you a trick, and sometimes the lead away from a jack. That is why "waiting leads" have been devised—leads from worthless holdings when every other suit contains some honor or honors not in sequence which would be jeopardized if the suit were led.

Practically all South players in the national championships reached that same contract on this deal. Every one of them made it. Some got one extra trick, and one scored two extras—Theodore A. Lightner, of New York. It was none of his fault, however, as all that this magnificent cardman had to do was accept the gift from his opponents.

When West led his heart 10, he thereby presented one trick to Mr. Lightner, who played low and let the A win, forced by possession of his J. East then solved the only puzzle in the hand for him—the way to play the diamonds—by leading the diamond 7. He played low and the Q had to go on from West to force the A. That enabled Mr. Lightner to get all the rest of the tricks, as the club K was caught in a finesse. So he made six odd.

Where West made the sounder lead of the club 9, the J, K and A fell. South then had to guess the diamond Q. If he took the A first, then led for a finesse, the Q would win. Having to lead the hearts himself later meant that South must lose two tricks in that suit. This deal was no test of the ability of the respective Souths, but a good test of the defensive strength of the pairs who played the other direction.

Hot Potato
Dishes With Cold Meats

By BETSY NEWMAN

You can, of course, always serve hot potato salad with cold meat cuts, but creamed or escalloped potatoes gives you a hot dish to serve with the cold meats, and how about serving a deviled egg salad with it?

Deviled Egg Salad.

6 hard-boiled eggs
2 tps. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. onion juice
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. finely minced parsley
1/4 cp. chopped Brazil nuts
Lettuce
Mayonnaise

Shell hard-cooked eggs and cut in half lengthwise. Remove yolks, mash and add mustard, onion juice, salt, parsley and Brazil nuts; mix well. If mixture is rather dry add vinegar or mayonnaise, and fill hollows of egg whites. Put crisp lettuce leaf on salad plate, top with 2 halves of deviled egg, sprinkle with chopped Brazil nuts and serve with mayonnaise.

Individual Spice Cream Rolls.

2/3 cp. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
3/4 cp. sugar
4 eggs
2 tps. butter
1 tsp. vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and spices and sift three times. Add sugar gradually to well-beaten eggs, beating until light and fluffy. Sift in small amount of dry ingredients at a time, folding in gently; fold in melted butter and flavoring.

Turn into well-greased, paper-lined shallow pan and bake in 400° F. oven for about 15 minutes. Trim edges at once, turn onto slightly dampened cloth or towel on cake rack; remove paper. Cut in half lengthwise and in thirds crosswise, and when cool spread with butterscotch cream filling.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Time stood still for endless days as I gazed at the queer uniform characters upon the sheet of flimsy paper spread out before me, then began to whirl in swift, swooping gyrations about my head. I felt as if I were the center of a cyclone, and could only sit still until the storm of my imagination—and my memories—had ceased.

For, if my memory—so unusually trained by my little mother, long since gone from me—had not failed me, I was looking at a page of characters penned not by Stephen Redfield or by any of his gangster associates, but by a man who, before the advent of Dicky into my life, had been as dear, nay dearer than the brother whom I never had had, for I had been an only child.

Written by Jack Bickett, Jack Bickett, my brother-cousin in the years of my childhood and my young womanhood—before I met and married Dicky and Jack became the husband of winsome Katherine Sonnet—it was his hand which had traced those eerie characters—"like Chinese," as Mary had said—upon this sheet, unless my eyes and my memory had lost their power.

Yet how had this paper, one which my knowledge of Jack told me would have been guarded with every resource at his command, found its way into the possession of an obvious gangster, who called Stephen Redfield "Stepan" and who had slipped this paper, with others, to the actor in the restaurant where he and Mary had been dining?

Both men had believed the transfer to have been unseen, but Mary's keen eyes had detected it, and her equally active wit had secured the paper. Stephen Redfield had not suspected her, and now the written paper lay before me, while the two apparently blank ones which she captured with it were even now being displayed to my father by Mary.

Recognizes Chirography.

I scanned the paper closely. Yes, I recognized the chirography. I had sat often by Jack's side, openly admiring and envious, while he studied and copied those outlandish characters, not to be sure of my ground. I found, then checked and re-checked, a dozen unmistakable evidences of his handiwork in the queer characters, before I sat back and permitted my forebodings to have their way with me.

This paper, in the possession of the gangster and then of Stephen Redfield; the question as to Jack Bickett's whereabouts, which Stephen had put to me with such absurd excuses advanced for the request; the same question telephoned me by Marion, so evidently under duress—all these were threads in a sinister pattern. I feared, in which Marion's life was at stake; while Jack's—was he already murdered, or was he alive, facing some deadly, unknown peril which we were powerless to avert?

Reminder of Days Long Gone.

It was a question which I had no means of answering. Feeling my impotence, and knowing that I could not go back to the living room until my father summoned me, I gave myself up to memories of the long past days when I had first seen characters like these.

It was in Jack's junior year in college that he first brought home odd characters like those on the paper spread out before me. He first showed them to my mother, dutifully, for she had mothered him since he had been doubly orphaned by a railroad accident when he was a wee lad. Then he brought them gleefully to me, as he always had brought me all his joys and sorrows.

Wanted to Marry Madge.

He was only a distant cousin, but he had been brought up as my brother, and no sister ever received greater devotion. I did not find out until years later, upon his return from a South American trip, that since boyhood he had loved me and wanted me for his wife. The tragedy of that revelation was that it came before I had an opportunity to tell him that I had been married to Dicky during his absence.

But I brushed that memory aside, for Katharine long since had healed that wound, and went back to recall the zest with which Jack had explained his new and intriguing study.

"There are only two or three men in the country who really know all about this stuff," he had said. "One of 'em is 'Dizzy' up at my school; Professor Walter Scott Diswell, when you speak of him properly. He's a ten-toothed shark on ancient languages, and I've always been nuts about 'em, as you know. Funny fad for an engineering student, but I'll always have it."

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, September 12

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

A DAY of surprising activity and liveliness is presaged from the predominant planetary influences, both lunar and mutual. A sharp and sudden visitation will mean rapid advancement in putting over adventurous and audacious propositions, possibly in connection with writings, publicity, publications, travel or transportation, and involving business, professional or cultural life or public relations or service. Great gains should follow the quick grasp of opportunities.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of rapid-fire events and adventures, with sudden and surprising turns that should spell dramatic achievements. This in connection with public affairs, inventions, travel, writings, publications or promotions. Large organizations are co-operative. Bold ideas, innovations and revolutionary changes from the old order will give splendid openings to lucrative results.

A child born on this day will be exceedingly versatile and creative, with commercial instincts above the average, as well as much originality, artistic expression and intellectuality.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

Miss Marie Moore, 349 Wayne street, entertained members of the Mooscheat committee of the Women of the Moose at her home Tuesday evening. Games were played and the prize won by Mrs. Elsie Hart. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated with garden flowers. Mrs. Janet Hamilton, 214 1/2 North Mulberry street, will entertain the group at her home Oct. 21.

COFFEE FLOAT

Vanilla ice cream floating on iced coffee becomes coffee float. It has a chilling effect and refreshes jaded appetites. Have it to sign off a luncheon or supper menu. Serve it in mid-evening or mid-afternoon when something light is wanted.

GEN. JOHNSON: Round Up Nazi Sympathizers In Chile

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON—It isn't easy for this column to support a position of Mr. Willkie. It did that once and now like the famous mouse caught in a cheese-baited trap, when offered cheese as a diet by its captor, "that mouse didn't want any more cheese."

But after all, this column is about Mr. Willkie. It is about a cause he is defending—against an investigation of the motion picture and perhaps the radio industry to learn if they are publishing propaganda to get us into war.

The first difficulty is to define the word "propaganda" and the second is that whatever they are publishing is plain for the whole of our people to see and hear daily and millions of them do see and hear it.

They have the evidence of their own senses and it doesn't require a legislative investigation to tell them whether it is war propaganda—or to try to be more accurate—whether it continuously plays up the case for American intervention or not.

Each person must be his own judge of that. As far as I am concerned, I think it does, or at least has a tendency in that direction. But suppose it does, then what are we going to do about it? That, in my opinion is the real vice of the so-called investigation.

The moment a move is made to curtail freedom in expression of the printed, the spoken or the visualized word, we begin to lose the most essential basis of democracy—freedom of opinion, debate, and expression.

If there were some sinister force, whether in public or private hands, which had the power to shut off all expression on one side of an argument and to falsify or distort all expression on the other side, there would be something to rave about. But such is not the case here. We have always the press and throughout this war, while pages of editorials and commentators have argued these questions in the hot zeal of advocacy, pro and con, I have yet to hear even a charge that the news reports of almost all the press have not been factual and coldly objective to a degree remarkable in the whole history of wars and unequalled anywhere else on earth.

As far as the radio is concerned, while it seems to me that most "news" commentators take little trouble to conceal their pro-war bias, yet, with the exception of a few ridiculous "prophesies," I haven't observed any of them in the act of playing fast and loose with the truth in their newscasting.

How could they? They are dependent on the press services and, while they give us information a few hours in advance, the printed news columns would almost immediately refute any attempt to violate or distort the truth. Also it seems to me that I hear as many anti-war as pro-war radio speeches.

While I have rarely requested it, I have never been refused radio time in my life. I have had plenty of it and I am as far from agreement with the extreme interventionists as I am with the extreme isolationists.

Most of the complaints about the movies attack fiction films. Doubtless some of them do distort actual conditions. All of them are addressed to the emotions. Like "Uncle Tom's Cabin" this could be some incitation to war. But they are plainly labelled fiction—which is the reverse of truth. People are so stuffed with the exaggerations of Hollywood that it is doubtful whether any 1941 "Uncle Tom's Cabin," either on the screen or between the covers of a book, could stampede this nation. Even if that were possible the American answer can't be censorship.

After all the millions of words and feet of film, the people of this country are between 70 per cent and 80 per cent opposed to unnecessary bloody involvement in this war except in the interest of realistic American defense.

Hugh S. Johnson.

AMERICANS IN OTHER NATIONS FACE DEADLINE

Warned To Return Home By Oct. 15 or Lose Their U. S. Citizenship.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Several thousand naturalized Americans who have lived in foreign countries beyond the time limit permitted by the nationality act of 1940 will lose their American citizenship unless they return to the United States by Oct. 14.

Officials said today that the new law becomes effective on that date and any naturalized Americans outside American territory—unless they are within categories excepted by the act—will automatically forfeit their citizenship.

They said that all of the absent Americans have been warned through United States consulates in European and Asiatic countries of the law's provisions and the consequences of its violation.

Some naturalized Americans have been stranded in belligerent territory because of war-disrupted transportation facilities. The state department, which has arranged for the return of more than 50,000 Americans since the start of the war, is now intensifying efforts to arrange for their transportation home before Oct. 14.

In that category, officials said, are between 75 and 100 naturalized Americans living in the British Isles. Until the state department announced a new policy yesterday, they had been unable to secure maritime transportation back to the United States since American ships are barred from navigating belligerent waters.

Secretary Hull has explained that a major reason for permitting Americans in the British Isles to take passage on foreign vessels was to enable them to save their citizenship.

The neutrality act prohibits Americans from traveling on belligerent vessels "except in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed" by the secretary of state acting under authority from the president.

Under the emergency rule Americans living in the British Isles who can show urgent need to return to this country may secure visas from American consular officers there to sail at their own risk on British, Norwegian, Dutch or other vessels sailing from British ports.

The body will arrive in Mansfield Saturday noon and taken to First Christian church to lie in state until funeral services at the church at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial park.

Mrs. Snyder is survived by her husband; two daughters, Betty and Norene, and a son, Jack, all of Cincinnati; her mother, Mrs. Ridenour; four brothers, R. B. A. E. O. C. and R. C. Ridenour of Mansfield; and five sisters, Mrs. Glen Pity, Mrs. W. C. Hoff and Mrs. Clara Yarrington, all of Mansfield, Miss Jean Ridenour of Cleveland, and Mrs. George James of Lima.

Preceding services in Mansfield, brief services will be held Friday afternoon in Cincinnati.

FATHER DIES

Two Mansfielders Go to Delaware for Houston Services.

Funeral services for John H. Houston, father of Mrs. Franklin K. Ackerman and Mrs. Gerald Moore, both of Mansfield, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at Dover, Del.

Mr. Houston, who was a former state representative in Delaware, died in Dover Tuesday evening. Survivors besides Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Moore, who have gone to Delaware for the funeral, include a son, Ned Houston, a member of the U. S. navy, and six grandchildren.

30 PATROLMEN ARE PROMOTED

D. H. Cole, Mansfield, Gets Corporal's Rank, New Post at Geneva.

Promotion of 30 state highway patrol officers, announced today in Columbus by Col. Lynn Black, raised D. H. Cole, Mansfield patrolman, to corporal's rank.

Cole, who has been stationed in Mansfield for the past two years, will be moved to Geneva to take charge of the patrol sub-station there.

George Mingle, a former Knox county deputy sheriff, was promoted to major inspector, marking the first time that post has been filled since the patrol started eight years ago.

Two shifts were made at the Massillon station promoting Lieut. R. W. Alvis to captain and moving him to Columbus while M. A. Mock was named a lieutenant and re-assigned to Massillon. Mansfield is in the Massillon control area.

Corp Carl F. Strayer, in Mansfield, said that D. D. Stark had been appointed acting district sergeant at Massillon to work under Mock.

D. W. Unkle, formerly of this district, was named a district sergeant and moved to Wilmington from Massillon.

Another former Mansfielder affected is L. D. Alexander, now in Lorain, who was promoted to a corporal's rank and moved to Findlay.

BROMFIELD ON AIR PROGRAM

Makes Appearance With Experts of 'Information Please'

Author Louis Bromfield joins the ranks of the Information Please radio specialists for this week's program broadcast from New York Friday at 7:30 p. m.

He will appear with the three "regulars," Clifton Fadiman, master of ceremonies, John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams.

The program may be heard locally through WTAM Cleveland by dialing 1100 kilocycles.

Bromfield, who has been in New York since the first of the week is expected to return home Monday.

SUCCEEDS WISE

Columbus Physician Replaces Mansfielder On Board.

A successor to the post of Dr. Ralph C. Wise, 281 West Fourth street, who recently retired as a member of the Ohio Commission for the Blind, was named today by the commission at a meeting in Columbus.

Dr. A. D. Frost, Columbus physician, was elected by the commission to serve in Dr. Wise's place. Walter Schmitt, Cincinnati attorney, was named vice president of the group.

2 KILLED IN CRASH

MARTINS FERRY — (NS) — Irene Hoskins, 15, of Duffey, and Joseph Melms, 16, of Powhatan, were killed instantly today when the car driven by Martin Ranko, 25, of Powhatan, struck a tree near Hannibal. Ranko and a girl companion in the front seat escaped serious injury.

CLAIMS NAZIS FORGED ALLIED BLOCKADE BY INVADING RUSSIA

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Germany herself sealed "the ring of the Allied blockade" by invading Russia, the commerce department said today, and "shut off, for the time being at least, supplies of the utmost importance to the Reich's war effort."

This conclusion was reached in an economic survey of Germany prepared for the department's foreign commerce weekly, which called attention to pre-invasion Nazi claims that food and raw materials from Russia were of decisive importance in "breaking" the Allied blockade of Continental Europe.

German agricultural journals "emphasized repeatedly," the department said, the importance of fodder grain from the Soviet for maintenance of the German hog population.

The department also held that the loss of such products as petroleum, barley, cotton, manganese ore, asbestos and similar items was of great added significance.

Another consideration, the department added, is the cutting off of trade from middle eastern and far eastern countries. This has put an end to heavy imports of soybeans from Manchuria and of cotton, hides, rice and other products from Iran and Afghanistan.

At the same time, the department noted, Germany has slammed the door on the route that could bring the Reich shipments of rubber, tin and other war essentials by way of Siberia.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Rose Wurtz, Mrs. Ella Alamanoff and Mrs. Pearl Hook; two sons, Glen and Robert, all of Mansfield, and a brother, Guy of Perryville.

The body was taken to the Jones Memorial where Rev. M. L. Bright of Lucas will conduct services Friday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery in Perryville.

GALION SOLDIER HURT IN CRASH

Member of 37th Division Injured In Louisiana.

A Galion man was among eight members of Ohio's 37th division injured yesterday near Oakdale, La., when an army truck in which they were riding ran off a bridge and overturned.

Eugene Smith, 30, Galion, suffered a fractured skull in the accident, which occurred while the soldiers were enroute from their bivouac near Grant, La., to Oakdale. The driver is believed to have fallen asleep.

All of the soldiers hurt, members of Company E, 148th Infantry, were admitted to the Camp Claiborne hospital for treatment.

ATTENDS MEET

Mansfielder Among Ohioans Who Will Go To Mexico City.

Among the four Ohioans at the Pan-American highway congress next week will be John L. Connors of the Galion Iron works and manufacturing company.

Connors, who lives on Marion avenue road in Mansfield, will attend the conference in Mexico City. This will be the fourth year the conference has been held.

It may be too early for frost on Richland county pumpkins, but the fodder shocks are beginning to appear in the county's corn fields.

Corn cutting has just started in the county, about on schedule. With a number of farmers using hybrid corn, which withstands drought, the county's corn crop is expected to be one of the best in the past 10 years. Drought damage was reported in only scattered sections, according to County Agent George B. Ganjard.

His training course completed, Lieut. George P. Sattler, U. S. Marine corps, came home today on a 15-day leave before reporting to New River, N. C., where he has been given a permanent assignment to the first marine division. He will be an officer in the fleet marine force there, commanded by Brig. Gen. H. M. (known far and wide as "Easy" Smith). The fleet marine force is a new unit, designed as a fighting force ready for instant duty anywhere. It never unpacks its seabags.

Lieut. Sattler recently married Janet Olin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Olin.

The Aid to Dependent Children office is staging a "round-up" this week in an effort to obtain canning jars for mothers having fruit and vegetables to "put up" but no funds to buy jars. Anyone having surplus jars to donate can help by calling Mrs. Kathryn McMichael, county executive. Mrs. McMichael said arrangements would be made to call for the jars.

A little three-year-old girl wondered today why her terrier puppy, Jackie, didn't answer her call. She is Barbara Wolf and her parents did not have the heart to tell her that Jackie was dead, struck by an auto "going so fast" that a spectator failed to get the license number. The seven-months-old pet belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolf, 297 Wayne avenue, parents of Barbara.

MAN STRICKEN

Loudonville Farmer Suffers Stroke Attending Funeral.

While attending the funeral of a neighbor yesterday afternoon in Loudonville, George Hiller, 62, a farmer living south of the village, suffered a fatal stroke.

Hiller was sitting in the Zion Lutheran church during funeral services for Mrs. Edward Stitzline, Loudonville. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, a neighbor noticed that Hiller had slumped over in the pew.

Hiller was taken to the parsonage next to the church and an ambulance was summoned. He died, shortly after being placed in the ambulance.

Survivors include his widow, five sons, Charles of Camp Robinson, Ark.; Roy of Selma, Ala.; Ralph of West Salem; and William and Lester Hiller of Loudonville; and three daughters, Mrs. Clara Ferris of Lakeville; Mrs. Edith Young, Congress; and Ruth Hiller, Loudonville.

The body was removed to the Gilbert funeral home. Funeral services have not yet been arranged.

Governor To Address 4-H Club Congress Tonight.

COLUMBUS — (NS) — An address by Governor Bricker on citizenship in a democracy at the annual banquet tonight was to highlight today's program of the annual Ohio 4-H club congress being held at Ohio State university.

The day was to be given over to counseling groups both for prospective college students and those not interested in further education.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

The Broadway Melody.

THERE is always music on Broadway; music coming out of the dance hall windows over the street, loud and cheap and brassy; music for the little dolls to dance to in the floor shows; music from machines in the penny arcades; music that a soldier can buy for a nickel; music rising from the pit of a darkened theater just before the curtain goes up. Overture music, and the little songs of the people going in the street.

It's funny about those songs, and the way we always identify big favorites with show folk. Once in a while there's an exception, like "Sideshow of New York," which seems to fit Al Smith like a new glove; but there are few.

And funny the way some people think it's the star who made the song. It's not at all, you know. Oftener, stars are made by the song.

Figure it out. Turn back the clock to the time when "My Blue Heaven" sold more than three million recordings. The lad who tenor'd the lyrics so beautifully was an unknown—he didn't even rate credit on the record label. But the public soon found out that it was a youth named Gene Austin—and his star started rising.

Skip around a bit. Sister tries were cluttering up radio studios trying to get auditions, all of them sure they could replace the disbanded Boswell Sisters. Three girls hitched their wagon to an unknown quantity—a song called "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen"—and found that the unknown quantity was a comet. But sold!

And that song initiated the success of the Andrews Sisters.

Maxine Sullivan, a little band singer, heard a trick arrangement of "Loch Lomond" in swing time. She sang that song in an audition for a job in a 52nd street club. She got the job—for a bag of peanuts—and kept singing that song. The word got around, and we all heard for the Onyx club to hear that strange combination: a skinny little colored girl singing the famous Scotch ballad. Maxine still rides high, and audiences never let her get away without singing that song.

And look at Ethel Waters, a good singer of ribald songs, who got the "Stormy Weather" gem in one of the uptown Cotton Club shows, and really went to places from there. . . . It was this same club that gave Cab Calloway his "Minnie the Moocher," and it was here that Duke Ellington became synonymous with the Sultry melody line of "Solitude."

At the Casanova Club, a pert little brunet was given a new song to sing—one that started her on a career in the show business that netted her a million dollars. "But-Not Up Your Overcoat," it was called, and the girl and the boop-boop-adeep girl, Helen Kane. . . . Benny Fields was a singing pianist who accompanied his famous wife Blossom Seeley—until "Lullaby of Broadway" fell into his lap and he was a star after two decades of patient waiting.

And one night the curtain went up on a "Scandals" and Harry Richman stepped into stage center and sang and shouted "The Birth of the Blues." And when he had finished singing that song on that opening night, Harry knew he could put the days of playing piano for Mae West in his memory book.

UP and DOWN THE STREET

It may be too early for frost on Richland county pumpkins, but the fodder shocks are beginning to appear in the county's corn fields.

Corn cutting has just started in the county, about on schedule. With a number of farmers using hybrid corn, which withstands drought, the county's corn crop is expected to be one of the best in the past 10 years. Drought damage was reported in only scattered sections, according to County Agent George B. Ganjard.

His training course completed, Lieut. George P. Sattler, U. S. Marine corps, came home today on a 15-day leave before reporting to New River, N. C., where he has been given a permanent assignment to the first marine division. He will be an officer in the fleet marine force there, commanded by Brig. Gen. H. M. (known far and wide as "Easy" Smith). The fleet marine force is a new unit, designed as a fighting force ready for instant duty anywhere. It never unpacks its seabags.

Lieut. Sattler recently married Janet Olin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Olin.

The Aid to Dependent Children office is staging a "round-up" this week in an effort to obtain canning jars for mothers having fruit and vegetables to "put up" but no funds to buy jars. Anyone having surplus jars to donate can help by calling Mrs. Kathryn McMichael, county executive. Mrs. McMichael said arrangements would be made to call for the jars.

A little three-year-old girl wondered today why her terrier puppy, Jackie, didn't answer her call. She is Barbara Wolf and her parents did not have the heart to tell her that Jackie was dead, struck by an auto "going so fast" that a spectator failed to get the license number. The seven-months-old pet belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolf, 297 Wayne avenue, parents of Barbara.

MAN STRICKEN

Loudonville Farmer Suffers Stroke Attending Funeral.

While attending the funeral of a neighbor yesterday afternoon in Loudonville, George Hiller, 62, a farmer living south of the village, suffered a fatal stroke.

Hiller was sitting in the Zion Lutheran church during funeral services for Mrs. Edward Stitzline, Loudonville. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, a neighbor noticed that Hiller had slumped over in the pew.

Hiller was taken to the parsonage next to the church and an ambulance was summoned. He died, shortly after being placed in the ambulance.

Survivors include his widow, five sons, Charles of Camp Robinson, Ark.; Roy of Selma, Ala.; Ralph of West Salem; and William and Lester Hiller of Loudonville; and three daughters, Mrs. Clara Ferris of Lakeville; Mrs. Edith Young, Congress; and Ruth Hiller, Loudonville.

The body was removed to the Gilbert funeral home. Funeral services have not yet been arranged.

WILL BE CHAPLAIN

ALLIANCE — (AP) — The Rev. Paul Haren, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church the past two years, has been ordered to report Sept. 27 at Fort Cronkhite, San Francisco, for chaplain duty with the U. S. coast guard as a first lieutenant.

BRICKER SPEAKS

Governor To Address 4-H Club Congress Tonight.

COLUMBUS — (NS) — An address by Governor Bricker on citizenship in a democracy at the annual banquet tonight was to highlight today's program of the annual Ohio 4-H club congress being held at Ohio State university.

The day was to be given over to counseling groups both for prospective college students and those not interested in further education.

MEXICANS HAIL COLLEGE BOYS OF GOOD WILL

Students Donate Labor, Pay Expenses To Aid Little Stricken Village.

MEXICO CITY — (U.P.) — In the tiny, earthquake-ravaged village of Tuxpan, Jalisco state, in the western part of Mexico, 30 American college boys are busy at the hard work of reconstruction today — but instead of drawing wages they are paying for the privilege of having the job.

This is the third year this sort of thing has been going on in Mexico. In 1939 and 1940 similar groups of American undergraduates spent the summer in the vast newly developed agricultural region of La Laguna, in the northern border state of Coahuila, and helped puzzled Mexican peasants build two schoolhouses. The boys get nothing for their work and pay their own expenses.

Responsible for these projects is the American Friends Society, an organization of Quakers in the United States.

The Tuxpan earthquake reconstruction work will be carried on all summer. This idea of volunteer work in Mexico to "put the good neighbor policy into action," was conceived three years ago by Clarence Senior, a young Kansas college instructor and a Quaker. Long interested in Mexican affairs, Senior sold both the Friends Society and Mexican government officials on the idea. Every year the project is different.

Senior was casting about for the proper one this spring when it virtually toppled into his lap: the worst earthquake Mexico has suffered in years struck in April, shook the capital, but wrought the worst damage in the states of Colima and Jalisco. The village of Tuxpan was chosen because it was one of the hardest hit and its needs had been least publicized.

Skeptical at first of such unheard of philanthropic plans, the Mexican government is enthusiastically supporting the American Friends Society's program.

Each spring the society selects its list of undergraduates from a pile of applications. The project is never widely advertised but word gets around and in the various colleges which the society itself backs in the United States, special attention is paid to it. The society pays the overhead of the venture, contributes to the cost of materials, arranges the routine, but the students pay all their own expenses. In return they get a summer in intimate contact with a foreign country, practical experience in Spanish and a vacation adventure at little cost. In some schools, student societies raise money to send one of their group on the trip.

Blasted Romance Gave New Orleans Its Free Schools

NEW ORLEANS — (U.S.) — Thousands of school kids in New Orleans probably could—but probably don't—credit a blasted romance with having provided free schools for most of the city's children.

Bordering Jackson Square in the French Quarter of New Orleans are the twin Pontalba Apartments, once the property of the Baroness Pontalba. And about the Baroness hangs the tale of the founding of the New Orleans public schools system.

The story goes that the Baroness, who like her father, Andre, Almonester y Roxas, contributed greatly to the city's charities, was refused in marriage to John McDonogh, a transplanted Baltimore, Md., merchant, in 1810.

Because of the disappointment, it is said, McDonogh retired to miserly life on his plantation nearby and acquired great wealth after many years. In his will he bequeathed his entire fortune to the free schools of New Orleans and his native city, Baltimore.

FISH TWICE BITES BAIT ALBANY, N. Y., U.P. — The State Conservation Department has found a fish "bait No. 8888" which bit twice on the same bait. The incident occurred during experiments on fish attraction, growth rate and survival of planted and tagged fish at Gilbert Lake near Oneonta.

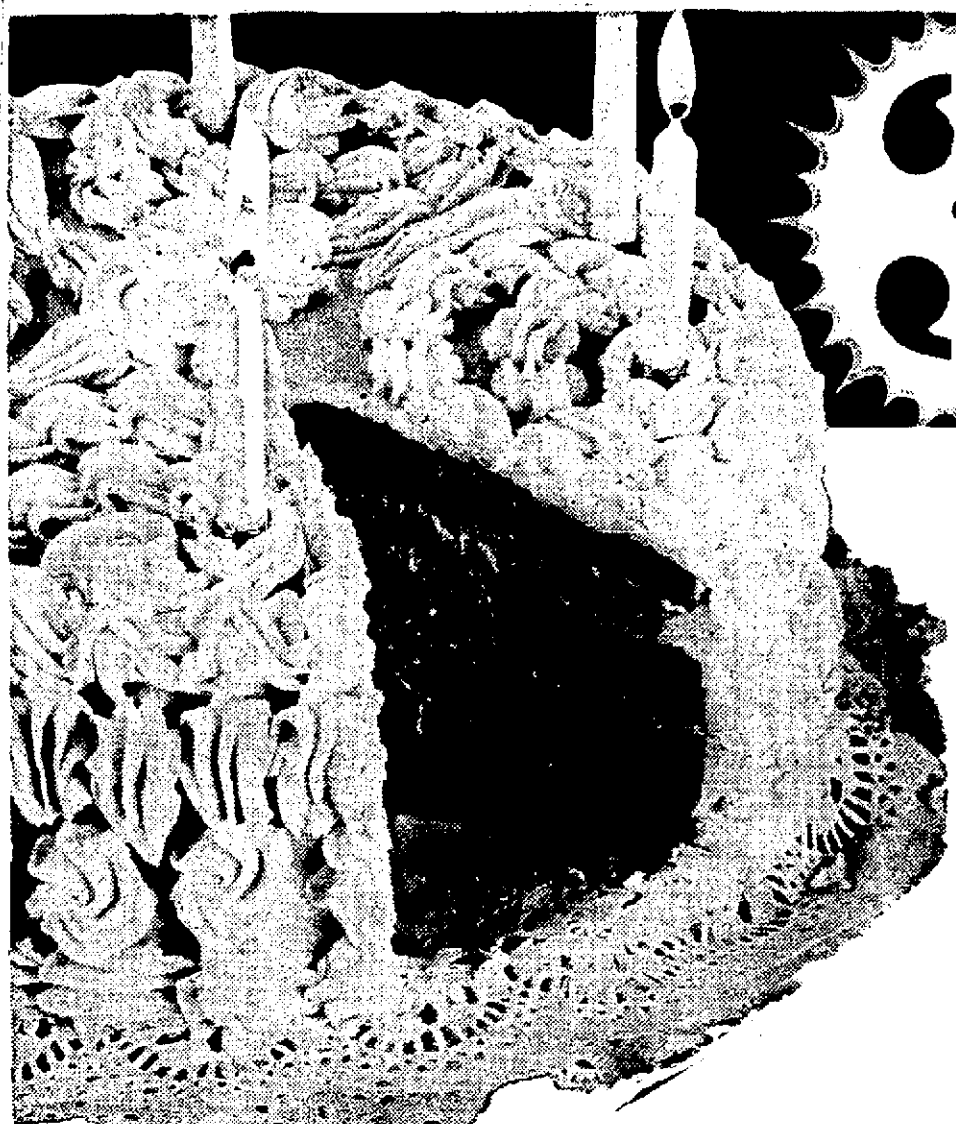

How Many Women LOSE FAT

Would you like to lose pounds of ugly fat and gain a more slender figure? Gain that increase of energy and attractiveness which generally follows weight reduction and rise mornings bubbling over with vigor?

Well that is the experience of thousands of women who faithfully followed this safe Kruschen plan. And it's all so easy, inexpensive — an almost effortless home method — approved by thousands of doctors.

Simply take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of water before breakfast. Cut out pastry and fatty meats — go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream and keep this up for 30 days.

Start today, girls, to get a more slender, graceful CHARMING FIGURE. Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula) today at leading druggists everywhere. Lasts 4 weeks — inexpensive. Either pleasant tasting, NEW "bubbling" form or the plain non-fizzy form for folks who prefer to take it in hot water or coffee. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.

The football season is hard upon us, but the baseball season isn't quite over yet for Mansfield.

The Liberty Parks and the Ontarios have an argument to settle this Sunday when they tangle in the rubber tilt of a three-game series at the Liberty diamond, with each team owning one victory in their past imbroglios.

And the Ontarios needn't be surprised if they find the Liberties loaded up a bit for the big game. They're getting fair warning here and now.

Russell Hoff, former Mansfield high star athlete, who has just completed a good season as a right-handed hurler and outfielder with Springfield of the Mid-Atlantic league, will be on the mound for the Parks, and at shortstop will be his old high school teammate, Ed Chatlain, the all-around athlete from Wittenberg.

Hoff is all set to go to the army on Sept. 29, and Chatlain is prepared to don Uncle Sam's togs a short time later. They'll be taking their one last fling at civilian sports in Sunday's game.

This change of seasons has me vexed. They'll be playing ball on ice skates next.

(Or do you think the baseball season was just closed down too early in these parts? After all the world series are still several weeks away. Maybe the minor league moguls just couldn't continue their headache past the first of September.)

I see where the Tappans drubbed the Athletic Supplies in that championship game of the Commercial softball league, and I can see Athletics' Manager Johnny Burns burning up some time to come because the Tappans insisted on playing in the semi-darkness of autumn twilight instead of the bright daylight of a Sunday afternoon.

They didn't pull the hidden ball trick on you did they, Johnny?

It seems it was just a question of which would burn the worst—Johnny Burns, or Tappan Stoves.

Tappans Win Playoff

Grab 16-10 Victory Over Athletic Supplies.

The long awaited Commercial league tilt between the Tappans and the Athletic Supplies ended last night at Prospect park with a 16-10 victory for the Tappans.

Featured by three home runs, the free swinging fracas started with 17 runs in the first inning.

The Supplies trotted eight men across in the top half of the inning and in the bottom half the Tappans rushed nine across to go into the lead.

After the first inning the Tappans were never headed, adding runs in every inning.

Tappans' Patterson and Bogantz lead hitters from both teams, collecting three for four trips to the plate each.

29-Inning Game Finally Ends

YOUNGSTOWN—(AP)—It took two days and 29-innings—but Dearborn, Mich., finally defeated Birmingham, Ala., in the National Amateur Baseball federation tournament.

The teams started Tuesday night and went 13 innings before stopping with the score deadlocked 2-2. Another 16 innings were necessary last night before Dearborn finally settled the issue, 7-4.

Youngstown Scher Tailors eked out a 2 to 1 decision over the Cleveland Bartunek in another game last night, eliminating them from further play. Other games were rained out.

MUSTOS BEATS BIVINS
CLEVELAND—(AP)—After being floored for a short count in the second round, Tony Musto of Chicago came back to pound out a 10-round decision over Jimmy Bivins, 180-pound Cleveland brawler, in the opening of the city's indoor boxing season last night.

Big Ten Lays for Gophers

Minnesota 'On the Spot' As League's Favorite.

(Hereafter is the first article in a series discussing Big Ten football prospects.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(INS)—Bernard W. (Bernie) Bierman, starting his tenth year as head football coach of the University of Minnesota, finds himself today in what he termed a "bad spot"—football experts have picked his 1940 Western Conference champions to repeat in 1941.

Coach Bierman is no more superstitious than several hundred other mentors on the business of defending a championship, but he finds little comfort in the thought that every 1941 opponent will be pointing for just one thing—to defeat Minnesota. There is a good chance that at least one of these points will find its mark when you consider that all the Gophers have to do in their games is a take on, in order, the University of Washington, Illinois, Pittsburgh, Michigan, Northwestern, Nebraska, Iowa, and Wisconsin.

Bierman blandly admits that the Gophers will be a good team this year, but he is somewhat cautious in his appraisal. To wit: "It must be remembered that we narrowly escaped defeat several times on our way to an undefeated season in 1940. We won two games by a single conversion point and had to come from behind to win several others. We could easily match last year's team in ability and still lose some games."

The Gophers will miss the services of All-American George Franck who was graduated last June, and also gone from last year's championship team are Bill Johnson, end; Fred Vant Hull, tackle, who was appointed to the U. S. naval academy; Bill Kussisto and Tom Rule, guards; Bob Bjorklund, Bob Kollner and Mark Moore, centers and Bob Pfaffrath, John Bartels, Joe Jamnik and Ed Steinbauer, backs.

However, before anybody starts to shed tears for Coach Bierman let's take a look at this year's prospects. Fans can dwell for some time on Captain Bruce Smith. The latter paired with Franck at the halfback spots last season, and what a pairing that was. In 35 attempts last season, Smith packed the football for a total of 542 yards, for an average of 6.37 yards per effort. In this department Smith slightly shaded Franck who had an average of 5.63 yards or a gain of 489 yards in 36 attempts.

To start the season there is admittedly a noticeable lack of experienced halfbacks. Smith and Gene Bierhaus are the veterans. But at quarterback and fullback there seems to be slight cause for worry, with such individuals as Bob Sweiger, Bill Daley, Warren Plunkett, Jim Shearer, et al at Bierman's beck and call.

The line will be built around two sturdy tackle regulars, Urban Odson and Dick Wildung. Flanking them may be Bob Fitch and Judd Ringer, who alternated in the 1940 starting lineup at end. There are six lettermen guards topped by Gordon Paschka and Helge Pukema, who were frequent 1940 starters. The starting line will average about 205 pounds.

At a glance the title-defending Gophers will have experience and all-around balance at most positions. Six of the two dozen lettermen returning were rated as regulars in 1940 and seven more held second string status.

So, if the draft regulations are not changed and not too many of the Gophers quit college life for the army or navy, it looks like the Gophers should retain the Big Ten title.

Arcaro Barred From Tracks

NEW YORK—(INS)—Eddie Arcaro, veteran rider of Whirlaway, was barred from all American racing tracks today for the remainder of the year after the stewards of the Jockey Club, meeting at Aqueduct, voted his suspension for "repeated unfair tactics."

The action was taken by the stewards after hearing testimony from jockeys and patrol judges regarding foul riding charges in the Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga. Arcaro, who rode Wiry to victory in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Belmont Stakes, had received previous warnings about his riding.

Pros to Play At Madison

Season Opener Shifted From Fairground Field.

Mansfield's football season opener Saturday night will be at Madison high field instead of the Fairground, the City News pros announced today.

After the pros had made arrangements to meet the Lorain Ex-His at the Fairground they discovered that the bleachers had been taken down and that the crowd would have to go back to the ancient custom of running up and down the sideline.

They lost no time in transferring the game to Madison where there's no danger of the bleachers disappearing, and where the lighting system is better suited to football.

After several weeks of serious practice, Coach Earl McMullen's City News gridders are all set for a flying start on the season and hope to turn in a victory in the opening tilt with Lorain.

Game time is still scheduled for 8:15 p.m.

Kansas City Evens Series With 11-6 Victory.

(By Associated Press) Columbus and Kansas City are even at a game apiece in their best-of-seven American Association playoff series, but Louisville has a 2-0 edge on Minneapolis, which never has won one of these post-season features.

The Red Birds, who won the pennant this year, felt the wrath of the Blues last night as Kansas City slugged out four runs in the first inning and four in the second as part of an 11 to 6 victory.

The Louisville Colonels chalked up their second straight playoff triumph over the Millers, 7 to 5.

Jackets Return to Gridiron

Baldwin-Wallace Team Returns Almost Intact.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—At the risk of throwing the unwelcome whammy on Baldwin-Wallace again, sports followers calculate the Yellow Jackets should do much more than sting their opponents in the rapidly approaching football campaign.

Before the start of the 1940 season they were rated high but, hampered by injuries to Fullback George Morris and Blocking Back Woody Scoutten, they dropped four of their eight starts. This time it might be different.

"We've got possibilities," concedes Coach Ray Watts. "You know how luck goes. If everything goes right we might do pretty well."

Only Morris and Scoutten are missing from last year's backfield, and they won't be missed too much because Morris played only one game and Scoutten little more. The returning dependables include Tailbacks John Kovach and Stanley Kulwicki, Wingbacks Marion Bulzoni and Paul Adams, and Fullback Irvin Maxwell.

The Yellow Jackets' foes also will do well to watch John Willis, 190-pound sophomore tailback from Lorain, and Jim Radinaker, a Berea sophomore who probably will be their best open field runner. Willis is quite a kicker and passer and a good power runner, and Watts expects to use him at tailback "quite a bit."

On the line there is no problem, either. The main losses include Tackle Walter Russ and Guard Bud Lucius from Massillon, neither a regular, Center Frank Hanna and End John Doktor. But in addition to some good talent from the new sophomore ranks, Watts called back five guards, two centers, six tackles and a half-dozen ends to make up a squad of 39 men, largest in years.

Watts' biggest worry is whether Maxwell and Al Marulicourt, his best guard, will be available all season. They are both seniors and are returning to school, but the question is whether their selective service boards will order them into the army before the season is over.

In addition to their Cleveland foes—Western Reserve, Case and John Carroll—the Berea collegians play Hiram, Ohio Wesleyan, Akron, Davis-Elkins and Toledo.

Buckeye Gridders Get Proper Start at Table

Brown's Boys Put Away Food But Don't Forget Their Manners

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS—(AP)—If a football team, like an army, travels on its stomach—look out for the 1941 edition at Ohio State.

We had a dinner date at the Bucks' training table last night, and the way those boys put away the grub reminded us of our old days among the Illinois harvest hands where heavy eating was a necessity, a custom and an art.

We've sat at training tables before but this one was a revelation. The mothers and dads of the 11 lads on the Ohio squad need not fear that their boys will forget their manners—not with Head Coach Paul E. Brown sitting at the head of the table.

The boys and the coaching staff trooped into the Ohio Union dining room on the campus, each taking his allotted place and standing behind his chair.

Brown picked up a spoon, tapped a glass tumbler, and quieted "Mr. Widows," Brown said, and Assistant Coach Carol Widows asked God's blessing as the squad stood with bowed heads.

Then came the food: orange juice, a huge glass of it; asparagus soup, with plenty of crackers and butter; steak, medium rare, accompanied by a large baked potato with the jacket still on, an ear of corn as large as we used to raise out in the Sangamon river valley, apple sauce, and a salad composed of carrots, tomatoes, lettuce and celery. Large pitchers of fresh milk were numerous, and the boys filled their glasses often. Coffee was available, but only four or five imbibed. They topped it off with watermelon.

While Assistant Coach Eddie Blicke was removing the last of his watermelon from his ear, "Well, fellows," he said, "we did everything out there today that we had planned. We are right on schedule, and you boys did a noble job. No matter whether you are the first, second, third or fourth team, keep plugging away as you did today and we'll have a football team."

"Some of you asked if you could attend the baseball game tonight. If you care to, you have my permission. It certainly wouldn't hurt you, but if I were trying to make this team, I'd try to be in bed by 10.30 at the latest. You'll be stiff and sore tomorrow, after that long workout, but it will wear off soon."

If good food, hard work, a congenial but strict coaching staff, and a bunch of kids just like your son and mine are the ingredients from which a good football team are made—those Bucks shouldn't be so bad this fall.

Cubs Clip Dodgers' Chances

Lift Double Header While Cards Take Phillies.

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Two paths which have run side by side, intersected at times and never been out of sight of the other, converge today as Brooklyn and the Cardinals clash in a vital three-game series.

The Red Birds, as a result of their twin killing over the Phillies yesterday while the Dodgers dropped two to Chicago, are just one game behind pace-setting Brooklyn.

"Are we pointing for this series?" questioned Manager Billy Southworth. "Why, hell no, Brooklyn is just another team to us—we'll be playing just another game."

Southworth designated Lefty Ernie White as starting hurler today against Brooklyn's probable starter, Fat Fred Fitzsimmons.

But if the series is just three more games to the Cardinals, it's a preliminary world series to fans.

Hotels were filled. Night spots were jammed and baseball definitely stole the show from such other headline topics as war, national defense and President Roosevelt's scheduled address to-night.

Orders for tickets came from Canada to Florida and west to Texas. The final game Saturday is sold out.

The two teams have collided 20 times already this season with St. Louis winning ten, Brooklyn nine and one game ending in a tie after 12 innings. They have played every day for five months and have arrived at this critical point in the schedule with only a single game separating them in the standings.

If Brooklyn wins two and loses one it will have a two game lead. If St. Louis wins two the teams will wind up in a virtual tie.

The Bums from Brooklyn were bruised and beleaguered by an ambush at Chicago yesterday. Up till then they had hoped to parade into St. Louis and salt away the pennant with an impressive display of fireworks in the enemy's own yard. They had a three-game lead and were cocky.

It was a terrible shock, therefore, to have the Cubs stick a dagger in the backs of The Bums yesterday by winning two games 5-4 and 5-3. Kirby Hughes, the only 20-game winner in the National league, had a 3-0 lead going into the last half of the eighth in the first game and the Dodgers were entirely unsuspecting.

When Phil Cavaretta tripped and Bill Nicholson doubled, Whitlow Wyatt rushed onto the scene in full majesty. Tom Dallessandro singled, but Wyatt put out the fire. It broke out again in the ninth, however, with three more runs, two singles a double by Lou Stringer, and finally a single by Bill Nicholson for the winning run.

On top of this Paul Erickson pitched six-hit ball in the nightcap and Bill Nicholson hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning for the margin of Chicago's second victory.

The Cardinals met stubborn opposition from the poor but proud Phillies, yet managed to keep their double-header 4-2 and 1-0. In the second game Hatty Gumbert pitched a masterful three-hit shut-out.

The Boston Braves beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 in 15 innings, and the Pittsburgh Pirates outslugged the New York Giants to win 10-7 in the other National League games.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox battered the Detroit Tigers 11-2, and Chicago White Sox crushed the Washington Senators 10-0.

U.S. PROCESSES WOODY ERSATZ FOR ALUMINUM

Use Likely In Aircraft For Steel-Tough Material Needed By Plants.

MADISON, Wis.—(U.P.)—Here in Dane county the federal Office of Production Management has undertaken an experiment in collection of scrap aluminum.

Citizens scoured their kitchens, pantries and attics for old aluminum pots, pans, ash trays and similar articles which could be melted for use in airplane construction.

By coincidence, Dane county is the site of another defense experiment which also may make the aluminum situation less pressing. Scientists at the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory here are perfecting a wood product which they say is lighter than aluminum—yet as tough as steel. So far, they have discovered no reason why it may not be used in airplane manufacture in place of aluminum.

Forest Products technicians have dubbed the new substance "compregnated wood." The name is derived from the fact that the wood receives its peculiar qualities through processes of compression and impregnation.

"Compregnated wood" is made in this fashion: Thin sheets of wood first are impregnated with a solution of phenol and formaldehyde, the bases of the phenol plastics. These sheets then are compressed into a solid mass, less than one-half their original total thickness.

The resulting material is one which laboratory tests indicate may revolutionize airplane construction as well as manufacture of mosquito boats and other small craft used by the navy. Technicians report that it reacts to rupture, tension, compression and elasticity tests in much the same manner as ordinary mild steel. Its test values are said to be four or five times those of the best natural woods. Yet it is only one-fourth as heavy as aluminum, lightest of ordinary metals.

Another virtue of the new wood is its smoothness, which is comparable to that of glass. This may help aeronautical engineers to overcome one of their most persistent enemies—speed-reducing parasitic resistance, or "drag."

Moreover, the surface of compregnated wood is more impervious to weather than paints or lacquers; no paint would be necessary on an airplane constructed of this material.

The new wood is easily machined according to Forest Products scientists. It can be readily sawed, drilled or turned on a lathe.

Technicians emphasize the difference between compregnated wood and "plasticized wood," which has received wide attention as a material for airplane construction. The latter is plywood bound together with phenolic resin glue under heat and pressure. This glue, or plastic, is applied to the surfaces of the plies.

But in the manufacture of compregnated wood, the original plies are soaked in the raw ingredients of the plastic, phenol and formaldehyde, dissolved in water. The solution penetrates the cell walls of the wood, the water is eliminated as the wood slowly dries and the blended phenol and formaldehyde remain as a film of plastic on the inner surface of the cell wall. Then, when pressure is applied to the plies, they become a homogeneous mass.

CATCHES UP

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Sign of the times:

The airplane ride which has served Luna Park, Coney Island, for many years had to be remodeled this year.

The old planes were ripped out and models of Spitfires and Hurricanes built.

These new planes were equipped with cannon and machine guns. And riders can sight their weapons as they whirl about at a model of a German Messerschmitt.

It Seems Long, Long Year But Private Fails to Prove Case

SHREVEPORT, La.—(U.P.)—Pat. William B. Henderson, a Shreveport trainee now serving with the 156th Infantry, had army men around here worried for a while over a letter he wrote home.

According to the way Henderson had a year of army life figured out, it was more than 2,000 hours longer than that of a civilian. In other words, it looked like a soldier just naturally lived longer each year.

Here's the way Henderson had it broken down: 2,496 hours of oil, counting one-half a day on Wednesday and Saturday and one full day (Sunday) each week.

3,809 hours off, from 5 p. m. until 7:45 a. m. five days a week. 260 hours off, counting one hour for lunch five days a week.

720 hours off, for a 30-day furlough each 12 months. 48 hours off, at each payday. 72 hours off, after three typhoid shots.

120 hours off, on May 30, July 4, Nov. 11, Christmas and Thanksgiving Day.

1,480 hours off, at 10 minutes each hour for rest period. (A soldier is on duty 24 hours a day and is entitled to 10 minutes of each hour for rest.)

1781 actual work hours per year at 8 hours, 15 minutes per day, less 80 minutes for rest periods, or 6 hours, 55 minutes.

That makes a total of 10,766 hours in the year.

Some of the army men around Shreveport admitted that a year in the army seems much longer than a year in civilian life but they were sure something was wrong somewhere. They finally figured out Henderson was wrong and that both soldiers and civilians lived only 8,760 hours a year.

It's a simple mathematical problem. Here's the answer.

Henderson assumed that trainees worked the same number of hours each week, but he forgot that assumption when he added to the total actual work hours instead of subtracting from it the hours that would have been devoted to work had not holidays, furloughs, paydays or typhoid injections intervened. This amounted to duplication in four separate items of Henderson's table and accounts for the discrepancy.

SLUGS FOR DEFENSE

COLUMBUS, O.—(U.P.)—The Ohio State Tobacco Association is going to drop its bid into the national defense collection plate Secretary Samuel L. Abrams of the association's cigarette vendors' division said the group would contribute an estimated ten or more of slugs collected in vending machines during the past two years.

Model Railroads Found Excellent As Joint Hobby

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—More than thirty local business executives, doctors and government employees meet every Tuesday night to further their joint hobby—model railroads.

Banded together for more than four years as the San Francisco Model Railroad Club, Inc., the group meets in a building provided by the Southern Pacific Railroad. Over an intricate railroad system which includes miniature mountains, forests and streams, as well as urban and suburban areas, they operate their homemade models.

President Joseph Brun, chairman of the group, said they prefer to adapt their models to exact replicas of the rolling stock of famous roads already existing. Most intricate and difficult to build are the locomotives, which also are the most valuable, often being insured as high as $600.

The hobby now has reached the point where a national association has been formed to standardize model making from a manufacturing standpoint. In addition, there are four leading model railroad magazines, carrying such advertisements as "A new freight hog for your pike (railroad line), ready for shipping, $39.75."

Santee River Will Do Bit For Defense

Hydro-Electric Power To Be Available In Carolinas By October.

MONCK'S CORNER, S. C. (UPI)—A slumbering river giant that meanders across South Carolina to the sea will soon contribute its mighty strength to the national defense program.

The river is the Santee, which reportedly has the largest flow of any stream flowing into the Atlantic south of the St. Lawrence. The huge task of diverting the Santee into 250-square mile reservoirs, which sprawl over five South Carolina lowland counties, is nearing completion.

The Santee will provide its first hydro-electric power in October—when the current electricity shortage in the Southeast is slated to reach its peak. By next March, the great slow-flowing river will reach its capacity output—700,000,000 kilowatt hours per year.

The federal government has poured $50,000,000 into the Santee-Cooper projects which is administered by the South Carolina Public Service Authority.

Using WPA labor, the authority has thrown up 56 miles of eastern dams and dikes to create the two artificial reservoirs—Santee Lake and Pinopolis lake—which will bottle and control the tremendous power generated by the river as it flows toward the sea. Santee Lake covers 119,000 acres, and Pinopolis 70,000.

The basin area was cleared of timber and other obstructions at a cost of $10,000,000. For construction of the giant power house and other facilities of the project, PWA made available a loan-grant totaling $40,025,000.

The project has provided work for 12,500 men. One of the final construction phases, before actual diversion of the river was started, was the construction of an 8-mile spillway dam—the world's largest—across the river.

Another important phase of the project was the construction of America's highest single-lift navigation lock—to boost river craft from a down stream canal to the reservoir level, which is 75 feet higher.

NAPS AT MOVIE

OGDEN, Utah—(UPI)—It was 5 a. m. when two Ogden telephone rang. One was in the police station—where officers were asked to look for 11-year-old Glen Ellis, who had been missing all night. The other was at the home of a theater manager.

The voice on the other end of the wire at the manager's home was Glen. He'd gone to sleep in a corner of the theater and wanted to get out. The two calls were connected. Glen was let out—and sped home on his bicycle which was still parked outside the show-house.

It's the Saving-est Washday Soap in Town!

DO YOUR WHOLE WASH WITH Rayon-Safe SUPER SUDS!

SUPER SUDS 1/3 MORE SUDS GETS THE DEEP DOWN DIRT OUT OF THE FAMILY'S WASH...

...AND WHAT A BEAUTIFUL JOB RAYON-SAFE SUPER SUDS DOES TO BRIGHTEN PRETTY RAYON UNDIES!

HERE'S HOW RAYON EXPERTS SAY TO WASH RAYONS!

1. Test a small patch in plain water. If color runs, it's not washable.
2. Wash rayons separately by hand in lukewarm Super Suds. Dissolve Super Suds in hot water. Add cold water to get lukewarm suds.
3. Do not soak rayons. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring or twist.
4. Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water. Roll in towel, but don't leave there.
5. Use a moderate iron.

Save Money With This Double-Duty Washday Soap. Does Everything From Family Wash to Smart Rayons, Cottons!

HERE'S A HONEY of a washday bargain! One go-gettin' soap that does everything beautifully, from grubby shirts and towels to delicate, lacey rayons, and does 'em safely! It's Rayon-Safe Super Suds. Gives 1/3 more suds than the average of 8 leading brands tested.

NO NEED now to waste money on expensive "extra" soaps for rayons or smart cottons. Because Super Suds is proved Rayon-Safe by America's foremost Rayon Experts—Better Fabrics Testing Bureau and the United States Testing Company. Washable colors are safe in Super Suds, too.

SO WHY BURN your budget with two washday soaps when Rayon-Safe Super Suds gets white clothes whiter, rayons brighter! Your nearest grocery has it for you!

PAM—Allen Mason's Story!

By A. W. Brewerton

I'VE OFTEN HEARD OF CASES OF AMNESIA, PAMELA, BUT THIS IS THE FIRST ONE I'VE ACTUALLY CONTACTED! IT MUST BE A TERRIFYING EXPERIENCE TO SUDDENLY LOSE YOUR IDENTITY!

IT MUST BE COLONEL! SIMPLY TERRIFYING!

THIS POOR CHAP DOESN'T KNOW WHO HE IS ANY MORE THAN YOU OR I DO! AS FAR AS HIS RECOLLECTION IS CONCERNED HE WAS JUST BORN ABOUT SIX WEEKS AGO--

THAT'S WHEN HE BECAME CONSCIOUS OF THINGS AS THEY ARE TODAY! HE AWOKE ONE MORNING TO FIND HIMSELF LYING BY A HAYSTACK IN A FIELD OUT IN THE COUNTRY. HE HAD A BIG BUMP ON HIS HEAD, AND THERE WAS A KNOT ON THE BACK OF HIS HEAD!

OH! MY HEAD!

WHERE AM I? NOW I GET HERE?

HUNTS BOTTLES

WILMINGTON, Del. — (U.S.) — John C. McElwain has an ambition to get at least one milk bottle from every state, and his ambition has been almost realized.

Also in his office are bottles from Mexico, Honolulu, Japan, Paris, London, Cork and Montreal—all found in Wilmington dumps.

One bottle in his collection is made of green glass, and, according to McElwain, it is one of the oldest ever manufactured.
